PROPOSALS

For Publishing, by Subscription,

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF

SIR WALTER SCOTT:

With a Biography: being the first American (and only) edition which contains the Author's last additions and illustrations, arranged upon their respective pages.

A COMPLETE and uniform edition of the various productions of the great 'Minstrel of the North,' is a desideratum with the American public. No library is complete without them, and no edition extant is sufficiently compact for such a repository; while the endless number of editions, without any uniformity in size, heretofore published, besides being exceedingly cumbrous, are far too voluminous and expensive to be within the reach of the great majority of readers. The undersigned therefore announce, that they have now in press, and will issue, an edition of the Works of Sir Walter Scott, which will embrace all his Poems, Novels, Histories, Biographies, and Fugitive Compositions, as well as the Biography and Private Correspondence, now in the course of publication in England, under the superintendence of Mr. Lockhart.

1st. In Parts: each Part embracing as much matter as is contained in two volumes of the present editions of the Waverley Novels, which will be put at the unprecedented low price of THIRTY SEVEN AND A HALF CENTS.

2d. Two parts will appear each month; but should the publishers find the work to meet the patronage they anticipate, FOUR PARTS will be issued monthly.

3d. The whole will be completed in seven volumes, or forty eight parts.

The paper on which the above is now printing, has been made expressly for the purpose; the present parts may, therefore, be considered a fair specimen, in every respect, of the whole work; but, should dissatisfaction arise with any subscriber, owing to an inferior article being offered, he may discontinue at any time, and have the amount paid returned.

Note.—The publication of the first volume is deferred until the receipt of the Biography, Private Correspondence, and the New Edition of the Author's Poetical Works, with 'contemporary criticism—various readings—and correspondence with some of the most eminent persons of the time when the Poems first appeared,' now in the course of publication in England.

Volume 1 will be ornamented with an excellent Portrait of Sir Walter Scott.

Bank of the United States.—If it were not too mortifying, it would be amusing to take a retrospect of the various objections which have been urged against this institution. The opponents seem to think that the people of the country are destitute both of memory and intellect, and therefore make objections to the recharter, no odds how inconsistent or incongruous. One of the strongest objections, used some time ago, was that the bank was poor—was insolvent—and had not sufficient specie in its vaults. It now appears that there are about ten millions of specie in the circulation of the country, and eleven millions in the vaults of the bank: this is a very large amount; and, although we have not yet seen any such objection urged, we have no doubt that the cry will soon be raised, that there is too much specie in the bank.

From the Raleigh Register.

Washington!—Greatness ever excites envy, and he who has achieved the noblest deeds is the first object at which the shafts of detraction are levelled. Washington felt the full force of this lamentable truth, and at the time he was struggling to lay the foundation of our present admirable system of government, there were not wanting those who endeavored to give a false coloring to his every action, and who with avidity transmitted their falsehoods across the Atlantic. While making every effort to secure the liberties of the people on a permanent basis, he was insidiously charged with paving his way to a throne. To show how far these incendiaries carried their designs, we copy the following letter from the Gentlemen's Magazine, and printed in London, where it appears as having come from "an intelligent citizen of Philadelphia:"

Philadelphia, October 26, 1786.

My Dear Friend—As I know you look upon whatever transpires in this country with intense interest, and have been among those who have ever suspected the late commanding general of the American armies, and predicted that he would ultimately look towards a throne, and rule with a sceptre of despotism those very people whom he has pretended to adore, and whose liberties he has avowed to be the God of his idolatry, I hasten to inform you that your suspicions relative to the ultimate views of Washington promise to be verified. It is now pretty generally reported and believed in the political circles in which I move, that George Washington will be crowned king of North America. Even his most partial friends do not pretend to doubt that he looks with an ambitious eye towards a monarchy; but they at the same time remark, that as he has no offspring, it is possible that he may be deterred from his designs. For my own part, I never placed the least confidence in his pretended patriotism, nor did I ever behold a man who is more of a tyrant at heart than he is. Poor deluded devils—poor Americans; they have fought seven years to bind themselves more firmly in bondage. When you next hear from me, be not surprised if I give you a detailed account of the coronation. Yours, very sincerely.

Nullification in Dominica.—A letter from a member of the Legislature of this island, indicates that the inhabitants are about to appeal to arms to resist the bill of the Ministry. It is dated on the 13th of July, and alludes to a memorial to Parliament, in which the declaration occurs:

"Your Memorialists, as the legislating power of the free and independent Constitution of Dominica, respectfully but firmly declare that they cannot consent to give it; they respectfully but firmly declare, that without such concurrence there exists no power that can legally enforce its evacuation in this colony. Your Memorialists are not insensible of the dangers to which these declarations may expose them; they require not to be reminded of the omnipotent power of the British Parliament; they can see, in no distant perspective, the protection of his Majesty's troops withdrawn, and the excited feelings of a mass of new born freemen, freed by a power which is not that of the law, menacing their lives and destroying their properties. It is under the direct contemplation of these horrors, that your Memorialists repeat their solemn declaration, never to give their sanction to an act of spoliation and injustice; their own ruin, and the ruin of their constituents must rest, with awful responsibility, on His Majesty's Ministers alone."

The writer adds:—

"As we cannot get arms from the King's Arsenal here, we have ordered out muskets and accoutrements to the amount of £400 sterling, with all possible despatch. I trust if it comes to the push, that the Dominicians will not flinch from the declarations expressed in the petition."

The same spirit is evidently at work in Jamaica. The Courant remarks—"The power of the British Government may overwhelm us; but to yield obedience to the decrees of the Imperial Parliament is quite out of the question. We are as independent of the Legislature of the Mother Country, as they are of us; but if it is determined that we are to be sacrificed, let us, at all events, be guiltless of aiding in the accomplishment of our own ruin."

These proceedings and remarks evince a very different feeling from that of acquiesence which was understood to be consequent upon the bill of Mr. Stanley.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

The Thellusson Will.—The overweening vanity which dictated this extraordinary document, cannot be more clearly illustrated than by the following anecdote regarding its execution:—When the will was ready for signature, the testator, who was then a bank director, declared that he had no idea of his will being witnessed by a parcel of attorney's clerks; so taking it with him to the Bank parlor, he solicited some of his brother Directors to be the witnesses. The then Governor readily assented to be one; and having made his own fortune as an army clothier, to the great mortification of Thellusson, subscribed his name and address as "John Pearce, Tailor, Lothbury."

A Curious Compliment.—Fasli was the ugliest man in Bagdad, but was not aware of his deficiencies. One day, while conversing with a friend, in the street, a lady, covered with a veil, stopped before him, and, for a long time, contemplated him very earnestly. Gratified by such attention, he went and asked her why she gazed at him so earnestly. 'I have violated the laws of Mahomed,' she replied, 'by looking with pleasure on a beautiful youth; I must, therefore, punish my eyes, and I trust that my voluntary penance of looking at you for so long a time will save me the tortures of hell.'—Mollad-Jami.

A west countryman, who had lately occasion to provide himself with a pair of shoes, took the measure of his own foot to a nicety, intending to send a boy to the shoemaker's, about three miles distant, to fetch him the shoes. Something, however, occurred to prevent the boy from going, and the man resolved to go himself. He accordingly set off for the cordwainer's, and was about half way on his road, when he suddenly stopped short, scratched his head, and muttered to himself, "Confound it! I forgot the measure." Back he went accordingly to procure it, and then proceeded to his original destination, where he learned, with astonishment, from the man of awls, that his foot would answer better than the measure.—Scotsman.

Temperature on the Earth's Surface.—From a general and extensive review of the various experimental data respecting the temperatures observed at different places on the earth's surface, the editor of the Annales de Chimie deduces the following consequences.

"The greatest degree of cold ever observed in our globe, with a thermometer suspended in the air, is 40° Reaumer, or 50° centigrade, below zero, (58° Faht.) The temperature of the water of the ocean, in any latitude, or at any season, never rises above 24° Reaumer, or 30° centigrade, (86° Faht.") —Ann. de Chimie, XXVII. 432.

Taxation in England.—The London Metropolitan for July, contains a long article, designed to prove taxation to be the cause of poverty and crime in England. Some of the calculations are startling;—they show an extent of burden levied upon the people for the public necessities—chiefly for charges arising out of the national debt,—which, with all our general impressions of the distress in Great Britain, arising from this cause, we were hardly prepared to expect.

One table is drawn up to show the amount of taxes paid by one citizen of London, having an income of £200 per year, supposing him to have a family consisting of a wife, three children, and one servant maid. Every item supposed to be absolutely necessary for the support of such a family is minutely set down, and the rate and amount of taxes levied and paid on them, carefully estimated—and the result, upon the lowest calculation, makes the amount of taxation more than £80, or forty per cent. upon his whole income. Government thus takes much more than one third of the whole income of a man of these moderate means!

The same article traces the progress of the annual taxation of Great Britain, and the public debt, in the reign of each monarch, from the Conquest to the year 1830. The number of monarchs, including Cromwell, was thirty six. Taking the returns for every fifth reign, for the sake of brevity, the following is the result,—in the time of the Conqueror the debt being nothing, and the taxation £400,000.

Richard I, taxation £150,000; debt, none. Edward III, taxation £154,000; debt, none. Edward IV, taxation £100,000; debt, none. Edward VI, taxation £400,000; debt, none. Under Cromwell, taxation £1,517,000; debt, none. Anne, taxation £4,500,000; debt, £13,348,680. William IV, in 1830, taxation £50,414,926; debt, £800,000,000!

The growth of the debt, within the last century, —beginning with 1730, and counting by periods of twenty years, to 1830, was; viz. 1730, £47,700,000; 1750, £72,178,000; 1770, £126,900,000; 1790, £228,000,000; 1800, no account. In 1805 it was £549,100,000; and, in 1815, £848,284,000.

The article from which we draw these figures contains numerous other tables showing the inequality of the operation of the taxes. Among them is one on what is called the house tax, from which we quote the following curious facts:

A shop, in Regent street, London, is rated at £400 per annum, and pays £56 odd shillings for house tax. The Palace at Stowe, 916 feet front, belonging to the Duke of Buckingham, one of the most splendid mansions in England, is assessed at £300 per annum, and pays £42 tax. The palace of the Archbishop of Canterbury is assessed at the same sum (£300) and pays the same tax. Godolphin Park, belonging to the Duke of Leeds, is rated at £150 per annum. Lord Baybrooke's House, which it cost £200,000 to build, is rated at £300. The palace of the Bishop of Hereford is rated at £60, and so on to the end of the chapter, in favor of the peerage at the expense of industry.

The last 'Danville Intelligencer,' contains the following new invention:

"Query—Answer this Gen. M'Kean. Did you not say publicly in the bar room of Joseph B. Henzey, Innkeeper, at Harrisburgh, some time last summer, preceding the late election for Governor, that if the Clay party would vote for Governor Wolf, the State Administration would go for Clay? Come out, General, we are ready for you."

We are authorized to state, in answer to the foregoing paragraph, that, the insinuation it conveys, is totally destitute of any foundation whatever; and that Gen. M'Kean never, either directly or indirectly, at Mr. Henzey's bar room, or elsewhere, made any declaration of the kind to which the paragraph refers.—Harrisburgh Rep.

ANOTHER INVENTION.

It has been an important object with the enemies of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, to make the people believe that he was unfriendly to our truly great and patriotic President. For this purpose, a story has been put in circulation that Gen. M'Kean negotiated with Charles Mowry & Co. for the publication, in a paper printed by them at the time, of letters signed "A Looker On," censuring Gen. Jackson. This story is as unjust as the rest of the slanderous attacks upon the Secretary. The following correspondence abundantly proves that Gen. M'Kean had no agency whatever in the publication referred to.

Harrisburgh, August 14, 1833.

Charles Mowry and Henry K. Strong, Esqs., of the late firm of Charles Mowry & Co.

Gentlemen—I observe that several papers, with a view to injure the Secretary of the Commonwealth in the estimation of the party to which he belongs, have circulated a charge that General M'Kean "negotiated with Messrs. Mowry & Co. for the publication, in their paper, of letters over the signature of "A Looker On," abusing General Jackson and his administration." As you, gentlemen, composed the firm of Charles Mowry & Co. at the time referred to, and are the only persons to whom application can be made for the truth in this respect, I respectfully enquire of you, whether the charge is founded in truth or not.—Your answer, as soon as convenient, will much oblige yours, &c. HENRY WELSH.

Harrisburgh, Aug. 14, 1833.

Henry Welsh, Esq.

Dear Sir—In reply to your note of this day, I unhesitatingly state, that no "negotiation," or correspondence of any kind, either written or verbal, ever took place, between "Charles Mowry & Co." late firm of the Pennsylvania Intelligencer, or Charles Mowry individually, and Gen. Samuel M'Kean, relative to the publication of "A Looker On," in that paper—or in regard to any other political matter that appeared therein. As to who was the author of those essays, is not the question at issue—nor if it were should I feel at liberty to disclose. All that I shall say is, that General M'Kean is not the author, nor is there any circumstance within my knowledge, that would lead me to believe or suspect, that General M'Kean ever saw one of those essays, till it appeared in print. Nor did I ever know whether he approved or disapproved of their publication.

This much I think due to General M'Kean, as matter of sheer justice, and I am persuaded, that Mr. Strong, who was my only partner in the Intelligencer, and alone with me, cognizant of authorship, though arrayed in political opposition to Gen. M'Kean, will go as far to clear him of any concern whatever, in procuring the publication of those numbers, entitled "A Looker On," as I have done. Respectfully, C. MOWRY.

Harrisburgh, Aug. 15, 1833.

Henry Welsh, Esq.

Sir—I consider the publication of truth relative to public men, whether it has a tendency to benefit, or injure them in the estimation of their party, important to the community. I feel therefore called upon to state, in justice to Gen. M'Kean, that he was no party to any negotiation, as far I was concerned, for the publication of the numbers of the "Looker On," in the Pennsylvania Intelligencer. They were not directed to me, or to the editors of the Intelligencer, but come in confidential letters to "Charles Mowry, Esq.," and by him, the then senior editor, published. There was no consultation, as far as my knowledge extends, with the Secretary of the Commonwealth, or with any other person in Harrisburgh.

HENRY K. STRONG.

The Baltimore Gazette states that the receipts for traveling and transportation on the Baltimore and Ohio Rail Road, for the six months ending the 31st August, exceeded one hundred and eight thousand dollars.

The receipts during the same period of last year, did not quite amount to ninety thousand—the increase was therefore above eighteen thousand, being an average of three thousand dollars per month. —Poulson, Sept. 10.

A letter from an intelligent gentleman in Jamaica, under date of 24th July, published in the Norfolk Beacon, mentions that the advices by the last packet from England, in reference to the Slave Emancipation question, had proved satisfactory to the Colonists. The resolutions which had passed the English House of Commons were believed to be of such a character as would induce the local legislature of the Island to meet them readily.—Poulson.

Surgical Operation.—Children have often lost their lives from obstruction in the windpipe, merely in consequence of neglect on the part of their parents to procure surgical assistance. Even after the act of respiration has altogether ceased, and the sufferer is apparently lifeless, a simple surgical operation, if not too long delayed, will, in almost every instance, restore life. A case occurred in this town, on Saturday last, which had nearly proved fatal, and the particulars of which ought to be generally known.

A child of Dr. E. A. Ward, while eating an apple, swallowed a piece the wrong way, as it is familiarly termed; that is, a piece of the apple lodged in the upper part of the windpipe, and so completely prevented the ingress or egress of the air, that the child almost instantly ceased to breathe!—Physicians were called in, but when they arrived the child had every appearance of being dead—pulsation at the wrist had ceased—the extremities were cold—but the operation of Tracheotomy. (opening the windpipe,) was recommended, and successfully performed by Dr. E. Huntingdon and Dr. J. W. Graves. So soon as an incision was made into the windpipe, it was apparent that the air slowly pressed into, and out of the lungs, thro' the orifice, and respiration was in this way carried on, until, with a curved probe, passed upwards, the obstruction was removed, and, in a short time, the breathing became perfectly natural. This operation was not commenced until the child had remained apparently lifeless nearly twenty minutes! The child is now doing well, and will undoubtedly recover.—Lowell Journal.

The Canal is again in perfect order, being abundantly supplied with water by the rain which fell on Friday and Saturday last. Business revived at once—Near four hundred dollars of tolls were received at the collector's office, in this place, in one day.—Blairsville Record, Sept. 11.

We regret to learn that the fall crops throughout this county have suffered severely from the late frosts. On the night of the 26th ultimo the frost first appeared, and many fields of corn and buckwheat were totally destroyed, and others more or less injured. The neighboring counties have also suffered from the same cause, and we learn that in Butler county, ice of the thickness of a dollar was formed. The long drought which has visited us, and which has hurt vegetation very much, is at length succeeded by refreshing rains, which we hope will invigorate and revive the crops that yet remain uninjured:—Ven. Demo.

Sugar from Potatoes.—The Cleveland, Ohio, Advertiser of August 22, says that a small quantity of molasses was brought to that village last week, from Medina county, manufactured from potatoes. Eleven quarts of thick molasses were procured from a bushel and three pecks of potatoes. The flavor is pleasant, and the article equal in every respect to West India molasses. The process of manufacturing is said to be simple and not expensive.

The editor of the Boston Transcript learns, by a gentleman from Lowell, that Mr. George W. Whipple, whose store was robbed and burnt on the night of the 2d instant, committed suicide on Thursday morning, by drowning himself in the canal, back of his dwelling house, on Hurd street. He left his house about 4 o'clock, and at 5 was taken from the canal, the water of which was not three feet deep.

It is stated in the New Bedford Mercury that Mr. W. had effected an insurance upon the property for 7,000 dollars, only a few days previously, and suspicions were soon excited that he had himself caused the store to be set on fire in order to attain the amount of the insurance. These suspicions it is said are strongly confirmed by appearances, and the knowledge of these, it is supposed, led him to the commission of this fatal act. Thus poignant and overwhelming are the reproaches of an injured conscience.

The 27th number of the American Quarterly Review has been issued. It is announced in an advertisement perfixed, that the publication of the work will be continued by Messrs. Key & Biddle, of Minor street, to whom it has been transferred by Messrs. Carey, Lea & Blanchard. These gentlemen found it inconvenient, owing to the extent and nature of their general business as publishers. Messrs. Key & Biddle have likewise intelligence, capital, zeal, and wide connection in their profession. The editorship of the Review remains in the hands in which it has been from the beginning. Every effort will be made by the editor and the new publishers to sustain the work in every respect. The savans, men of letters, and members of the learned professions, who have hitherto furnished the greater part of its contents, rank with the first of the country. Abundant contributions from the same or like sources are confidently expected.—Nat. Gaz.

Latest from Madeira.—The brig Forest, Capt. Trathen, arrived at this port from Funchal, Madeira, sailed July 30. We are indebted to Captain Trathen for the following intelligence:—

"The political state of Madeira was undisturbed—the inhabitants were silently watching the transactions of the conflicting parties in the mother country. The island, however, is decidedly for Miguel, and nothing but a very strong force could subjugate it, garrisoned as it now is.

"A few days before the Forest left, the Miguelite brig of war Tagus, of twenty guns, arrived at Funchal, having made her escape when the squadron was taken; some of her yards and masts were crippled by grape shot.

"It is known for a certainty at Madeira, that the action between the two squadrons lasted three hours, and the loss of officers and men was considerable on both sides."

Very late from Portugal.—The ship Dalmatia arrived at the port of Boston on Friday last, from St. Ubes, whence she sailed on the 9th of August. St. Ubes was taken possession of by about 150 men of Don Pedro's army, on the 3d. On the intelligence of their approach, the Miguelites fled, without resistance. The inhabitants welcomed the entrance of Don Pedro's troops by the ringing of bells and the illumination of the city for three successive nights. It was said that Don Pedro had organized a force of 18,000 men at Lisbon.—Poulson.

From the N. Orleans Price Current, Aug. 24.

Nothing can be more monotonous than life in New Orleans at this season of the year; we have reference to commercial life and men of busy habits, and we sympathize with those who have nothing to do, and are yet bound to wear away the long, hot, dusty, idle days, which must intervene between the present moment and the commencement of business—within doors, the pleasure of whiling away an hour by looking over the transactions of the past, or in any other useful and agreeable manner, is alloyed by the stinging and buzzing of myriads of never tiring mosquitos—without, the ardent rays of the sun, and clouds of dust, preclude the possibility of pleasure—and lastly, and worst of all, is the never failing topic, sickness; for, from some cause or other, there always remain in the city a number of strangers; some are sick, some die, and many are in daily apprehension of contracting the malady of the climate, so that all are more or less interested in the result, which we set down as another drawback to the very small portion of satisfaction to be enjoyed in this dull, hot, dusty, mosquito biting, sickly season.—Then, there is little or nothing to be had that is good to eat—the fish from the Lake spoil on the way, vegetation is parched by the sun, the rivers are so low that our Western friends cannot come to our aid, and our Northern brethren are kept aloof with their notions through fear of the Yellow Fever; there is, however, a satisfaction attending this scarcity of comestibles, the rich and the poor are put on a par, it matters not, money or no money, we all live alike, the article is not to be had. The Mississippi has fallen two feet, and was yesterday 13 feet below high water mark.

Freights are dull, and except the packet now loading for New York, nominal.

The steamer Black Hawk, brought down from Bayou Sarah, four bales of very fine cotton, (new crop) which was sold at Baton Rouge for a fraction over sixteen cents a pound.

Health of our City.—We have understood that the mortality for the last two or three days has been on the increase. We adverted to the subject of the sanity of our city the other day, and the remarks we then made about the return of strangers will now more particularly apply. We do not think there is any great cause of alarm, if our citizens be careful not to expose themselves. Much depends on prudence, and none should be imprudent at this yellow fever season.—Bee.

On Dit.—It is rumored, but whether true or false we do not pretend to say, that the Secretary of the Treasury is at present engaged in preparing Circulars to the Revenue, authorising them to make their deposits in the State Banks. If true, we regret it. Such a course is premature. The matter should have been left until after next Session of Congress.—Philadelphia Chronicle.

The Lieut. Gov. of Nova Scotia formerly received £6,000 per annum. It is now reduced to £4,000, being in dollars and cents $17,777 77. The Governor of Lower Canada now receives £6,223, or $27,657 77, a much larger sum than the President of the U. S. receives.—Phila. Chron.

Remarkable Coincidence.—Mr. Hawley has published a communication in the Advertiser of Rochester, stating that on the same day General Arnold died in England, the oak tree, under which Messrs. Van Wart and Williams captured Major Andre, in Tarrytown, was struck with lightning and shivered to pieces.

Seven thousand and two passengers arrived at Baltimore, from foreign ports, from the 1st of May to the 31st of August.—Nat. Gaz.

We were favored, on Saturday last, with a continuous rain. The river raised, in consequence, several feet. The mail boats from Steubenville to Wheeling, and from Steubenville and Wellsville, the running of which had been suspended during the lowest stage of the river, recommenced their daily trips on Sunday. This will be a great accommodation to passengers, inasmuch as it is more comfortable to lie down, at night, in a snug, clean berth, go to sleep, and travel 40 miles, than to be jolted in a mail stage for that distance. To explain: Passengers from Wheeling to Pittsburgh, travel to Steubenville (23 miles) in the mail boat; the balance of the distance (36 miles) in excellent and easy mail coaches, with first rate horses, and careful drivers. Passengers to Lake Erie travel from Wheeling to Wellsville in the mail boats, (upwards of 40 miles) and the balance of the distance in stages of the above description. The mail boat rout is the popular rout. It has become so much so, that the proprietors of the mail line have put upon the line, a new and splendid boat, (the Post Boy,) calculated to accommodate upwards of thirty psasengers. At this season of the year, the road from Steubenville to Pittsburgh is very fine, being mostly clay turnpike. No disappointment ever occurs as to passengers getting on; for, when the mail stage is crowded, an extra is ready.—Steubenville Herald.

A public dinner has been offered to Senator Rives of Virginia, now on a visit to the White Sulphur Springs, by a number of the citizens of Lewisburgh, and has been accepted by him. It was to take place on Thursday last. In his letter of acceptance, Mr. Rives holds the following decided language as to nullification—the State Veto doctrine, as opposed to the States' Rights doctrines of the South:

"You say most truly, that I have been the constant friend of the Rights of the States; and with an unvarying devotion to that cause, it has never, in my humble judgment, been in my power to render it a better service than my efforts, however feeble, to rescue it from those perversions and extravagant pretensions, which, in making it incompatible with the existence of our happy federal union, and indeed of any organized society whatever, must inevitably have made it an object of distrust and aversion to the patriotic and sober minded people of this country."

Daniel O'Connell.—The following resolution was adopted by a meeting of the friends of Ireland in Philadelphia:

"Resolved. That, in the opinion of this association, the illiberal remarks on Americans, said to have been made by Daniel O'Connell at a meeting in England, on the subject of slavery, and put in circulation in this country through the medium of the New York Commercial Advertiser, is a vile and insidious slander, calculated to lessen the exalted reputation he has hitherto sustained amongst us."

We conceive that Mr. O'Connell might have made use of language that would bear some analogy to that imputed to him. The warm feelings of Mr. O'Connell, played on by the exaggerated representations of Garrison and Paul, would not be likely to cool without some words.

The Richmond Enquirer lately contained a letter from a respectable gentleman in London, stating that Mr. O'Connell has grossly abused the American people in his speech at the Anti Slavery meeting.—Alex. Gaz.

Rustic Wit.—A young man in this city, on his way to Midford, having come to the cross roads, asked a lad "Which way does this road go?" pointing to one—"Why," said the lad, scratching his head, "I doan't knaw as he do go any where. I pass un every morning, and I do always find un here."

The Maryland Reform Convention which met at Baltimore on the 27th ult., like that of this State, was a miserable abortion.

It is stated that the large balloon sleeves of ladies' dresses are about to go out of fashion. This will have an essential influence on the dry goods market, and will affect stage fare, pew rent, &c.

Manner of naming Countries. The origin of the word Canada is curious enough. The Spaniards visited that country previous to the French, and made particular searches for gold and silver, and finding none, they often said among themselves "aca nada" (there is nothing here.) The Indians who watched them closely, learnt this sentence and its meaning. After the departure of the Spaniards the French arrived, and the Indians, who wanted none of their company, and supposed they also were Spaniards, come on the same errand, were anxious to inform them that their labor was lost by tarrying in that country, and incessantly repeated to them the Spanish sentence "aca nada." The French, who knew as little of the Spanish as the Indians, supposed this incessantly recurring sound was the name of the country, and gave it the name of Canada, which it has borne ever since.

Melancholy Suicide.—The Richmond Enquirer, of Friday, informs us that Mr. Edwin Randolph, the son of the late P. Randolph, Esq., of that city, committed suicide, a few days ago, in Charlestown, Jefferson county. He had been in a desponding situation for some time; had just returned from a visit to a beloved aunt; went to a store—purchased a pair of pistols—stated that he was about to travel—got the storekeeper to load one of the pistols—retired to a room in the tavern where he boarded, wrote two letters—in one of which he stated that the world would attribute the rash act to the wrong cause, and blew his brains out by placing the pistol in contact with his forehead.

Young Randolph was one of the best educated, and most promising young men in Virginia. He was a fine, open hearted youth—His virtues equal to his accomplishments,—and it is impossible to bend over his grave, and recollect his rash and melancholy end, without the deepest regret. Relations he has left behind him, who dearly loved him—young friends, who will weep over his grave, —but, fortunately, for his parents, they are both spared the anguish of the blow, which none would have more keenly felt. They are both gone to that bourne from which there is no return.—Baltimore Chron. Sept. 9.

LAW LIBRARY,

TO BE EDITED BY

Thomas Sergeant & John C. Lowber, Esqs.

IT is the object of this publication, to furnish gentlemen of the bar, with the most important British elementary treatises upon Law, in a form which will render them far less expensive than works of this description have hitherto been. To gentlemen residing at a distance from the principal cities, the advantages of this publication will be made apparent. The very low price at which it will be afforded, and the facility with which important works, in the periodical form, can be transmitted by mail, are the attractions upon which it will depend for public favor.

The selection of the works, to be embraced in this collection, is confided to the gentlemen above named, already widely and favorably known to the profession. It will be understood that it forms no part of the plan to admit original communications, or to give the work in any degree the character of a journal. Distinct in its design, it cannot interfere with any existing periodical, nor is it intended at any time to depart from our present plan, which is to reprint British elementary treatises, suited to the business and practice of this country, in a more cheap and convenient form than has ever yet been done. For this purpose the proprietor will receive from his agent in London, at the earliest date, every important publication as it issues from the press.

The series commenced with Theobald's 'Practical Treatise on the Law of Principal and Surety, particularly with relation to Mercantile Guaranties, Bills of Exchange, and Bail Bonds," 1 vol. 8vo. London, 1832. The English cost of this work is $3 75. The entire work is included in one number of the "Library," and to subscribers will be furnished at the very low price of 83 cents.—A title page will be printed for each work upon its completion.

The second number contains 'A Treatise on the Statutes of Limitation,' by William Blanshard, Esq., of the Inner Temple, complete, and the greater part of Wilkinson's Treatise on the 'Limitation of Actions.' The third number, which completes the first volume of the Law Library, contains the remainder of Wilkinson, and A Treatise, complete, on the Law Distresses, by James Bradby, a new edition, with additions, by John Adams.

The number for October, which will be the first of the second volume, will contain part of Shelford's 'Practical Treatise on the Law concerning Lunatics, Idiots, and Persons of unsound mind—With an Appendix of the Statutes of England, Ireland, and Scotland, relating to such persons, and Precedents and Bills of Costs.' London, 8vo. 1833. This work, together with Watson's 'Treatise on the Law relating to the Office and Deputy of Sheriff; comprising the whole of the Duties, Remunerations, and Liabilities of Sheriffs,' &c. &c. will be completed in the early numbers of the Library. The English cost of these works is 20 dollars, and will be included in about four numbers of the Law Library.

The English cost of the works comprised in the first three numbers of the Library, was $14 25. They are furnished to our subscribers for $2 50.

The 'Law Library' will be published in monthly numbers, royal octavo, of about 200 pages, at $10 per annum, payable in advance, and will be sent by mail to any part of the United States. It is unnecessary to enlarge upon the advantages of the plan of this publication—they will be apparent to all. For the small sum required for it, there will be annually included in its pages, works which would cost the purchaser, if procured in the usual way, from forty to fifty dollars. The names of the editors (well known to the American bar) are securities for adequate editorship. No work will be reprinted that will not be valuable to every lawyer, wherever his residence in the United States may be, and no expense will be spared on the part of the proprietor to render his publication in every respect worthy of extensive circulation.

PERIODICALS.

AMERICAN RAILROAD JOURNAL, and Advocate of Internal Improvements, which is designed as a repository of the accounts of the rise and progress of numerous works of Internal Improvement, in the United States particularly, and in other parts of the world generally. The work is published weekly, and forms a large octavo volume each year, of 832 pages of 3 columns each, for $3 per annum, in advance.

New York Farmer, and American Gardener's Magazine. This work is designed for the agriculturist, and will be found to contain much, both interesting and profitable, to those who cultivate the soil as a business, or merely a garden for amusement. Published in monthly parts of 32 large octavo pages, with three columns each, at $3 per annum, in advance.

Mechanics' Magazine, and Register of Improvements and Inventions. To the Mechanics of the United States---In this populous and enlightened country, almost every description of persons can obtain knowledge and amusement connected with their peculiar pursuits, through the medium of the Journal or Magazine, especially devoted to their interests. The Theologian, the Farmer, the Philosopher, the Sportsman, and even the Plough Boy, has each his Journal, where he can find a record of the passing events of the day, connected with his peculiar avocations and recreations. Hitherto, the Mechanics (who form a large and most important portion of the community) have had no Journal, to which they could turn, with the certainty of finding that information they desire, no periodical of which they could say: 'This is ours, and for us.' In the hope that the attempt to supply such a want at a price so reasonable as to be within the reach of all, will meet with your active support, the subscriber proposes to publish, on the first day of each month, a Mechanics' Magazine. It will contain a well digested selection of the most useful and interesting articles in the London Mechanics' Magazine, London Register of Arts and Sciences, Repertory of Inventions, Library of Useful Knowledge, Journal of the Franklin Institute, and other works, connected with the arts and manufactures, published in this country and in Europe, accompanied with numerous and well executed Engravings. Its pages will be open for the communications of all, and especially for those of the practical artisan, to whose interest it will be particularly devoted. The Mechanics' Magazine will contain, also, a due portion of the occurrences of the month, Scientific and Literary Reviews of Books, Anecdotes, Economical Receipts, Reports of the state of Mechanics' Institutions, and other Scientific Societies in this state and other countries. To be published monthly. Each succeeding number will contain 64 pages, handsomely printed, and stitched in a neat cover. Six numbers will form a volume, for which an index and title page will be supplied, and also a Portrait of some distinguished Mechanic, as a Frontispiece. Terms, $3 per annum, in advance.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S
☞ WELCH MEDICAMENTUM.☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,

From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.
Utica, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer is vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes giving temporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.

TYPE FOUNDRY.

HAVING purchased of Mr. Richard Ronaldson, his long established and very extensive Type Foundry, the subscribers have formed a co-partnership for the purpose of continuing said business, and for the convenience of their friends and patrons, have removed their establishment to a more central part of the city. As it is their intention to keep on hand a good assortment of the best type, and to make such additions and improvements as the taste of the trade and the wants of the country require, they flatter themselves that this establishment will merit a large share of patronage. They have now several founts on hand, which can be furnished at a few hours' notice, and are prepared to make founts of all weights and sizes, from Pearl to 22 lines Pica, including a variety of Ornamental Letter. Their assortment of Cuts, Dashes, Brass Rule, and other Ornaments, will be found to be very extensive, of which specimens will be forwarded to Printers as soon as they can be prepared.

Printing Presses of every description, Printing Ink of the most approved qualities, Composing Sticks, Brass and Common Galleys, Chases, Imposing Stones, Cases, Paper and Press Boards, Standing Presses, Furniture, together with a complete assortment of all articles used in a Printing Office, will be kept constantly on hand.

Small founts, suitable for Book Binders, in great variety, may be had when called for.

Orders from all parts in the Union will be promptly and most carefully attended to, and particularly in supplying sorts for all founts furnished by their predecessors, Binny & Ronaldson, and Richard Ronaldson.
